9e Journées de linguistique suisse 9th Days of Swiss Linguistics

Genève 29.06 - 30.06 - 01.07.2016

Second call to contributions

The Days of Swiss Linguistics Conference (DSL) takes place every two years and it is organized by one of the Swiss universities on behalf of the Swiss Linguistics Society. In 2016, the 9th edition of this conference will be held at University of Geneva from 29th of June to 1st July. The DSL is an international conference welcoming senior and junior researchers from Europe and beyond.

The theme of this year's conference is:

Diversity of structures and meanings in natural language: empirical, experimental and theoretical approaches

For this 9th edition of DSL, we have the pleasure to have six keynote speakers, who will cover different aspects of the conference topic, including morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics, as well as experimental and empirical approaches.

- David Beaver (University of Texas, Austin, USA)
- Alda Mari (Institut Jean Nicod, CNRS, Paris, France)
- Stephen Anderson (Yale University, USA)
- Nausicaa Pouscoulous (University College London, UK)
- Liesbeth Degand (Université Catholique de Louvain, Belgium)
- Luigi Rizzi (University of Geneva, Switzerland)

The second call for papers encourages the submission of abstracts for oral presentations for the three parallel sessions and the poster session. The deadline for abstract submission is 30 November 2015. We are looking forward to receiving your contributions!

Please visit the website of the conference, which will provide you more detailed information: <http://www.9dsl.ch>

Please circulate this information in your institution, in your mailing lists and to any other colleague who might be interested.
